Poster Presentations

01 Syntactic positions of arguments in Japanese clause structure: From the perspective of psycholinguistic experiment
Masatoshi Koizumi, Naoki Kimura and Jungho Kim (Tohoku University)

02 Cognitive brain imaging and the argument structure of ditransitive constructions in Japanese
Masatoshi Koizumi¹, Jungho Kim¹, Naoki Kimura¹, Jobu Watanabe², Satoru Yokoyama¹, Naho Ikuta¹, Shinya Uchida¹, Yuko Akitsu¹, Kazuki Iwata¹, Hyeonjeong Jeong¹, Naoki Miura¹, Yuko Sassa¹, Noriaki Yusa³, Shigeru Sato¹, Kaoru Horie¹ and Ryuta Kawashima¹
(¹Tohoku University, ²Waseda University, ³Miyagi Gakuin Women's University)

03 Scrambling effects on the processing of Japanese sentences: An fMRI study
Jungho Kim¹, Masatoshi Koizumi¹, Naho Ikuta¹, Yuichiro Fukumitsu¹, Yuko Akitsu¹, Kazuki Iwata¹, Hyeonjeong Jeong¹, Naoki Miura¹, Hideyuki Okamoto¹, Yuko Sassa¹, Jobu Watanabe², Satoru Yokoyama¹, Noriaki Yusa³, Shigeru Sato¹, Kaoru Horie¹ and Ryuta Kawashima¹
(¹Tohoku University, ²Waseda University, ³Miyagi Gakuin Women's University)

04 Brain activation associated with the sentence processing: An fMRI study
Naho Ikuta¹, Motoaki Sugiura², Yuko Sassa¹, Jobu Watanabe¹, Yuko Akitsu¹, Kazuki Iwata¹, Naoki Miura¹, Hideyuki Okamoto¹, Jorge Riera¹, Shigeru Sato¹, Kaoru Horie¹, Yoshihiko Matsue³ and Ryuta Kawashima¹
(¹Tohoku University, ²Miyagi University of Education, ³Tohoku Fukushi University)

05 The Finno-Ugric essive case: Its semantics and possible sentence positions
Masahiko Nose (Tohoku University)

06 Representation of null pronouns in language production
Hiroko Yamashita¹, Yuki Hirose² and Franklin Chang¹ (¹Rochester Institute of Technology, ²The University of Tokyo, ³Max Planck Institute for Evolutionary Anthropology)

07 Longer phrase durations impair the processing of garden-path sentences in sequential presentation
Miki Uetsuki, Kazushi Maruya and Takao Sato (The University of Tokyo)

08 The relation of working memory capacity and garden-path sentence processing
Yuki Kobayashi (The University of Tokyo)

09 Time course of semantic and syntactic processing in Japanese sentence comprehension
Hitomi Nashiwa, Mizuki Nakao and Makoto Miyatani (Hiroshima University)

10 Retrieval difficulty in establishing syntactic, semantic, and referential dependencies
Tessa Warren¹, Masako Hirota² and Michael Schiller¹
(¹University of Pittsburgh, ²Max Planck Institute for Human Cognitive and Brain Sciences)

11 The influence of definiteness and context on referential interpretation: ERP evidence
Petra Burkhart (University of Potsdam/University of Marburg)

12 "Right-dislocation" by a Japanese speaking child: Processing, grammar, or both?
Jun Nomura (University of Hawaii at Manoa)

13 A noun phrase structure: A trial of syntax and semantics isomorphism
Yoshiko Umemori

14 Brain activities related to the integration of nouns and numeral classifiers in Japanese:
An ERP study
Yumi Sakai, Kazuki Iwata, Jorge Riera, Xiaohong Wan, Satoru Yokoyama, Yoshiteru Shimoda, Ryuta Kawashima, Kei Yoshimoto and Masatoshi Koizumi (Tohoku University)

15 Dual-mechanism processing in Japanese causatives: An ERP study
Takane Ito¹, Yoko Sugiuoka², Takahiro Soshi³, Ayumi Koso³ and Hiroko Hagiwara³
¹The University of Tokyo, ²Keio University, ³Tokyo Metropolitan University

16 Processing Japanese deadjectival nominals: Masked and unmasked priming studies
Ichiro Kanamaru, Yuki Kobayashi and Takane Ito (The University of Tokyo)

17 Neural network involved in verb processing: An fMRI study
Satoru Yokoyama, Tadao Miyamoto, Jungho Kim, Yuko Akitsuki, Jorge Riera, Kei Yoshimoto, Kaoru Horie, Shigeru Sato and Ryuta Kawashima (Tohoku University)

18 Processing of a complex sentence in L1 and L2: An fMRI study
Satoru Yokoyama, Hideyuki Okamoto, Jungho Kim, Yuko Akitsuki, Jorge Riera, Kei Yoshimoto, Kaoru Horie, Shigeru Sato and Ryuta Kawashima (Tohoku University)

19 The brain activation of syntax comprehension in English-Japanese bilinguals: An fMRI study
Hideyuki Okamoto, Daiko Takahashi, Yuko Sasa, Naho Ikuta, Hyeonjeong Jeong, Kazuki Iwata, Jobu Watanabe, Yuko Akitsuki, Naoki Miura and Ryuta Kawashima (Tohoku University)

20 The acquisition process of Japanese case particles wo and ni by JSL learners
Ya-Ling Su (Tohoku University)

21 Sentence comprehension after reading silently and orally
Maiko Takahashi and Akihiro Tanaka (The University of Tokyo)

22 On derived temporal attributes in phonology
Yukio Takahashi (Morioka College)

23 An alternative account of 'elliptical sentence' production
Shinji Ido (University of Sydney/Tohoku University)

24 Phonological codes in Chinese are involved in the access of character meanings:
A study by the Stroop paradigm with manual response modality
Chen Bai¹ and Kui Wang² (¹Tohoku University, ²Chinese Academe of Science)

25 Processing of pause and structure in discourse
Hisao Tokizaki (Sapporo University)

26 Working memory for prosody and its role in spoken language processing
Akihiro Tanaka (The University of Tokyo)

27 Lexical accent as disguised prosodic cue for syntax
Yuki Hirose (The University of Tokyo)

28 Topics in child Japanese
Noriko Hattori, Seiki Ayano, Dylan Herrick, David Stringer and Koji Sugisaki (Mie University)

29 F0 control characterization by perceptual impressions on speaking attitudes using multiple dimensional scaling analysis
Yoko Kokenawa¹, Minoru Tsuzaki², Hiroaki Kato³ and Yoshinori Sagisaka¹
¹Waseda University, ²Kyoto City University of Arts, ³ATR Human Information Science Labs
30  Negative words do not need attentional resources for their particular process
Ken Kihara and Naoyuki Osaka (Kyoto University)

31  The relation of automatic thoughts and negative mood following procrastination
Junichiro Hayashi (The University of Tokyo)

32  Neural integration of linguistic and emotional aspects of spoken phrases for understanding speakers’ real intentions
Midori Homma¹, Satoshi Imaizumi¹, Masaharu Maruishi² and Hiroyuki Munakata²
¹Hiroshima Prefectural University, ²Hiroshima Prefectural Rehabilitation Center

33  Processing of emotional utterances:
Is vocal tone really more significant than verbal content in Japanese?
Keiko Ishii (Hokkaido University)

34  Visual word recognition of Japanese Kanji and Kana: An fMRI study
Hyeonjeong Jeong¹, Motoaki Sugiura², Yuko Sassa¹³, Tadao Miyamoto¹, Chen Bai¹, Satoru yokoyama¹, Naho Ikuta¹, Hideyuki Okamoto¹, Kaoru Horie¹, Shigeru Sato¹ and Ryuta Kawashima¹
¹Tohoku University, ²Miyagi University of Education, ³Japan Science and Technology Agency

35  Do only statistical regularities lead to shape bias?:
Computational approach to shape bias by using known words meanings
Kousuke Kurosaki and Takashi Omori (Hokkaido University)

36  Causal clauses and unidirectionality in clause combining constructions
Yuko Higashiizumi (Tokyo University of Marine Science and Technology/Tokyo Gakugei University)

37  Toward children's logical inference: A preliminary report
Utako Minai (University of Maryland, College Park)

38  Do infants’ pointing gestures provoke adults to comment?
Takeshi Kishimoto, Yasuhiro Shizawa, Toshihiko Hinobayashi and Tetsuhiro Minami (Osaka University)

39  The preferred style of motion event encoding in Thai narrative texts
Ruetaivan Kessakul (The University of Tokyo)

40  A mental space analysis of the change predicate naru in Japanese
Tomohiro Sakai (The University of Tokyo)

41  Toward a cognitive typology of the passive construction: An exploration into linguistic subjectivity
Prashant Pardeshi¹, Qing-Mei Li² and Kaoru Horie²
¹Kobe University, ²Tohoku University

42  The change of occurrence of nominative case marker ga no in Middle Japanese
Shigeyuki Kobayashi (Seigakuin University)
